ASSESSORS TO BLAME.

The Carson Appeal puts the nail on the head when it says the Assessors of the different counties are responsible for the high rate of taxation, from the loose manner in which they have made their assessments in the last twenty years, and concludes by saying:

The high rate is due to the old time and absurd policy of Assessors who do not assess property for more than one-third or one-half its value.

Thus, a man with $10,000 worth of property is set down as owning $5,000, and taxed at a rate of three cents on the hundred dollars.

Now, it would look much better to tax him one and a half cents on the hundred—an estimate his property at $10,000, its real value.

The foolish custom of the Assessors results in such a way that the outside world only estimates our wealth at half its value, and regard our taxes as double what they really are.

A TRUE BILL FOUND.

The Troubles of a Newspaper Correspondent.

MONTREAL, November 12.—The Grand Jury this morning rendered a true bill against the correspondent, R. N. O'Brien, for "wickedly and maliciously intending to injure, vilify and prejudice his Royal Highness Prince George of Wales by sending abroad dispatches that the Prince had been arrested for participation in a street fight." O'Brien pleaded not guilty and the trial was fixed for Monday.

The Flurry in Honduras.

There is nothing new or surprising in the outbreak in Honduras. It is the old, old story. The Presidential term of Gen. Louis Bugarin, who has been Chief Magistrate of Honduras since 1883, was about to expire. He began to intrigue to succeed himself, whereupon a rival candidate, Sanchez, called his followers to arms, attacked Bugarin in his residence and very early captured him and his Cabinet. As it was the President's second term, he was not out and now proposes to fight for his restoration to power. It is of little interest to the world at large which of the combatants wins the day. Bugarin has made a fair President. He was discovered by the late General Barrera, of Guatemala, and faithfully adhered to the fortunes of his patron until the death of the latter. But the chief ruler of a State, with no more people than the city of San Francisco, and these scattered over an area as large as Ohio, cannot cut much figure in the world.

The eviction of Irish tenants in Fuleragh is being carried on with peculiar atrocity, says the San Francisco Chronicle. It may be that the cabins of those who were to be turned out were stripped of all food, but this was only natural, as potatoes are not plentiful enough this year to make it advisable to risk them in the hands of the constabulary. When English tourists were brought up over the scenes of cruelty the police must have done some harsh work, for the British are not given to sentiment in Ireland. Bugarin is credited with great political shrewdness, but he makes a serious mistake in not deferring these evictions until a less critical time.

The Union Iron Works has just completed a contract for mining machinery for a Bolivian company to the value of $300,000. This is merely one instance of what may lie in the future development of South America by means of railroad and other enterprises now under consideration, and the establishment of closer business relations with that country.

The Golden Gate Mine in Oroville, Cal., is probably the richest gold mine in the world. Major McLaughlin has successfully turned the river from its bed, and is scooping out gold by the bucketful. Nothing like it was ever seen in the history of river mining in America. People who are now bawling about and trying to purchase a sock can't find anybody who wants to sell.

It is stated at Washington that Secretary Blaine has obtained from the United States Ministers in South American countries copies of the tariff laws of those nations, with each comment upon them as the Minister thought proper to make, and with this data he proposes to prepare a letter, full of food for thought, which he will submit to Congress.

A correspondent of the Daily Report writes that the Bottle mines are pretending to have no bullion, and yet quietly shipping it away. He states that $16,000 was recently shipped to Virginia City, via Carson. He signs himself "Fir Play to Stockholders."

San Francisco suffered a $350,000 fire Thursday night. The principal losers are Louis Saroni & Co., Sieben Bros. & Co., and H. Duward. The property destroyed was largely covered by insurance.

The seventy-seventh birthday of Allen G. Thurman, the "Old Roman," was celebrated in the Eastern city Thursday, by the Democrats, with brilliant demonstrations.

The Cleveland (O.) Leader remarks editorially: "Ohio and California are the prize Republican States. California, who is your man for Vice President in 1892?"

The Native Sons of the Golden West, to whom Sutter's Fort was deeded, desire to turn the property over to the State of California.

FINE NUTS.

Something of the Crop and the Gatherers.

Of late years, says the Carson Appeal, pine nuts have grown to be quite an article of commerce on this coast.

This season over eleven tons were shipped from this State to San Francisco, where they threaten in some degree to supplant the peanut on the home cars.

The Indians go out in the pine forests every Fall and gather the crop. The red men have attempted to gauge the weather by the quantity of pine nuts gathered, but as a rule the weather has gone along without any visible connection with pine nuts. The nuts, which are less than half the size of the peanut, come from the pine cones; under each leaf is a nut.

The cones are gathered and roasted, and the cones spreading apart with the heat, drop the nuts. This accounts for the black coat one occasionally finds on the nuts, which comes off on the fore finger of the right hand.

Another way of getting them out is to store the cones away in a safe place and allow them to dry gradually, letting the nuts fall out thoroughly seasoned. Nuts gathered in this way are higher priced than the ones which have been "fried." These, however, have to be roasted like raw peanuts.

HUNTINGTON'S MANSION.

A Baronial Castle Under Way on Fifth Avenue, New York.

The World says: Sightseers at the corner of Fifty-seventh street and Fifth avenue stare at the mammoth building slowly assuming shape there, the residence of C. P. Huntington. The huge wing on Fifty-seventh street is to be devoted to Prince Hetzfeldt and the Princess. The Prince's arms appear in one or two places in elaborate carving. Nearly all the houses thereabouts will sink into insignificance when the Huntington mansion is pushed a little further westward. The size is simply stupendous. The people on the second floor almost look on the roofs of the neighboring dwellings, and the building will eventually be one of the landmarks of Fifth avenue. Corcoran's Vanderbilt house will appear like a cozy French villa beside this baronial castle.

He Did Not Forget It.

A wife recently gave her husband a letter, begging him not to forget it. He got to his place of business. When he did so, he read:

"I am forced to tell you something that I know will trouble you, but it is my duty to do so. I am determined you shall know, for the result be what it may. I have known for a week that it was coming, but kept it to myself until today, when I have reached a crisis, and I cannot keep it any longer. You must not be angry with me, for you must see the result, well as myself. I do hope it won't cause you any trouble."

By this time the cold perspiration stood on his forehead with the fear of some terrible unknown calamity. He turned the page, his hair slowly rising, and read:

"The coal is all used up. I please call and ask for coal to be sent this afternoon. I thought by this method you would not forget it." He shut the field Telegram.

SANG "PEEK-A-BOO."

A Novel Way in Which a Chinaman Gained His Release.

Some time ago a Chinese boy named L. You Gin was landed from a China steamer at San Francisco on a writ of habeas corpus. On his examination before Commissioner McAllister about five weeks ago he was remanded and locked up in the county jail. When the order of remand was made Attorney Richards took an exception, and yesterday afternoon the case was heard before Judge Hoffman. Witnesses introduced on behalf of the Government were positive in their belief that the boy had been here before, and had up at a good deal of his time about the slaughterhouses in South San Francisco. Final Judge Hoffman asked the witnesses how they recognized the boy, and the answer was made that the white persons living in South San Francisco had had considerable sport at the Chinaman's expense as he could talk good English and sing. For amusement they frequently dressed him up in the clothes of a white person and exhibited him as the "Chinaman wood-r." The Court was surprised, and on asking the Chinese lad if he could talk English he latter replied that he could, but was able to sing better.

"Let's hear you sing," said the Court. No sooner had the words been uttered than the Chinaman started off at a rapid rate singing "Peek-a-Boo," and then gave several songs that he had learned during his residence in the neighborhood of the slaughterhouses.

Judge Hoffman was satisfied that the boy had been raised here, and ordered his release.

Not Worth a Dam.

Exchange: This is an expression which to people who do not know its real meaning, and there are few who do, is very shocking. A dam is a small brass coin which is current in the countries of Persia and India, and is equal to one-fortieth of a rupee, or about one cent of our money. The phrase "not worth a dam" was used by Englishmen in the East to express their sense of an article's worthlessness. Owing to the ignorance of its origin and meaning it has been badly misconstrued and has finally come, by most people, to mean an obnoxious profanation, or coarse, and is signifying a thing of no small value as not to be worth the waste of breath used in damning it. This, however, is entirely the wrong meaning of the sentence.

U. S. Marines.

A special train passed Reno at 8:45 yesterday morning containing 165 marines and apprentices for the United States war-ship San Francisco, which is lying in wait at the Bay. Some of them were from the war-ship Chicago and Enterprise, of the squadron of evolution, which has just returned from European waters.

The apprentices are from the Jamestown training ship and were a bright lot of youngsters.

THE LADIES SPOKE FRENCH.

Unfortunately Some of Their Fellow Travelers Did Also.

A beautiful example of the sublime faith some people have in the superiority of their attainments over those of the people by whom they are surrounded, and of the confusion which occasionally ensues when it transpires that such faith has been misplaced, was presented in a railway car recently.

A lady and gentleman, the epic and span newness of whose apparel and belongings and the flawlessness of whose courtesy to each other bespoke their freshly wedded state, were speeding along in the express from Boston. At one of the stations they alighted and presently returned, accompanied by a young lady who was evidently the sister of the bride. During their brief absence their places had been taken by new comers and it was necessary for the party to distribute itself through the car. The sisters pointed a little at being separated by the aisle, and craned their heads across to whisper to each other.

They seemed to have a great deal to say. This was proved when they hit upon the happy expedient of conversing in French. From this time they sat comfortably erect and talked across in tones sufficiently loud to be easily heard above the noise of the train. Their French was not that of the salons. It had probably been acquired in the nursery from some voluble bonne. But it proved all sufficient for the transmission of the most confidential tales of the young wife's brief matrimonial career. It transpired that she was on her wedding journey, and not having seen her sister since the day when she started out in a rain storm of rice and slippers she had much to impart, and the particulars were thrilling. They talked in the somewhat thin, fine voices which are characteristic of "Down east" maidens, and which penetrate like a child's treble.

When an occasional stop was made they were too interested to pause, and did not even lower their tones, they felt so sure everybody else in the car could only understand United States. The wife had disclosed the whole history up to the present time when the train came to a stop in the Grand Central depot. Then in the sudden hush a gentleman and lady who had been sitting near by exchanged a few sentences relative to their luggage and plans and spoke in correct and fluent French. As their accents fell upon the ears of the authors of less confidences the effect was marvelous, and the girls turned and fled like the Assyrian host, leaving their belongings to be collected by the young husband, who had understood nothing and seemed wholly mystified.—New York World.

An English-American Joke.

In London there is a joke going the rounds of the clubs under the libelous guise of an American joke. They tell of the cremation of a certain Yankee, who, just before yielding up the ghost, expressed the wish that his dead body should be committed to the flames. Accordingly therefore the corpse was duly conveyed to the crematory and, in the presence of a large concourse of bearded friends, consigned to the glowing chamber in the midst of the roaring furnace. The corpse had been in the furnace half an hour, when the sorrowing friends, impelled by a morbid curiosity, slyly opened the door and peered in to see how the melancholy work of cremation was progressing. Thereupon, to the surprise of all, the corpse sat up in the coffin, stark, blue and shivering, and cried out: "Please shut that door—you know very well I never could stand a draught!"—Engene Field in Chicago News.

Ornamental Tiles.

The art of making the ornamental tiles which are so often laid in floors and used for various decorative purposes seems to have taken its rise during the latter half of the Twelfth century, but tile work was not generally used before the middle of the Thirteenth. Mosaic work, which is much older, was done by an entirely different process. The tiles were made of clay and baked; the mosaics were made of stones of different colors.—Youth's Companion.

At the Concert.

Isolde—That is music worth listening to, isn't it?
Manrico—I don't care much for it.
Isolde—I don't say that I like it, but I say it is music worth listening to.—Puck.

Dr. John Hall, of the Fifth Avenue (New York) Presbyterian church, has been nearly twenty-three years its pastor, and in that time has been absent from the pulpit but twice on account of sickness.

"UNCLE ALF." NO MORE.

Death of Alfred Henderson Estell at Reno, Nevada.

The Sacramento Record-Union gives the following biographical sketch of Alf Estell, who died here Thursday night: It will be sad news to thousands of people throughout Central California to learn that "Uncle Alf," Estell—the genial, gentlemanly citizen whom they have known for so many years, is dead. The following special dispatch to the Record-Union, announcing his demise, was received last night:

RENO (Nov.), Nov. 13.—Alf. Estell, an old Sacramento, died at the Palace Hotel here this evening. He had had charge of Theodore Winters' stable for two years. Theodore Winters takes charge of his remains.

Mr. Estell two years ago went East in charge of the Winters stable of thoroughbreds, and returning spent last Winter in this city, where he had for many years made his home. He went East with the stable again last Spring, and returned to Mr. Winters' home, in Nevada, about two months ago, where he has since remained. He was not in very robust health when he last left this city, but his friends here were ignorant of the fact that of late he had been in such declining health as to endanger his life.

Alfred Henderson Estell was a native of Tennessee, and came to California in 1850. Here he had always been an active man, and wherever known his name was synonymous with thorough honesty and nobility of character. "Uncle Alf," as he was familiarly known, never desecrated to the commission of an act that was not in thorough keeping with the character of a gentleman.

Like so many well-reared Southerners, he was an ardent sportsman, his taste running to thoroughbred horses, and he was widely known on the turf. He was a walking encyclopedia of horse lore, and could give the pedigree of every prominent race horse for a quarter of a century back.

As nearly as could be learned last night from E. G. Bessing—one of the closest friends of the deceased—Mr. Estell had held the following positions of trust in this State: When Paul Shirley was Sheriff of Solano county, back in the fifties, Mr. Estell was his Chief Deputy, a position which he held for many years. He was Deputy State Treasurer under Thomas Findley, about 1858. A few years later, when the Comstock mines were being developed, he went to Virginia City and became Superintendent of one of the largest mines there. He was afterward Superintendent of a large mine in eastern Nevada—probably at Pioche.

Abandoning the mining business he came to Sacramento, and served as one of the clerks under State Surveyor General Hickey. Since then he was Under Sheriff during the terms of H. M. Lurie and M. M. Drew in this county, and had held other positions.

Everybody that knew "Uncle Alf" loved him. He was a great favorite especially with the juvenile members of his friends' families, and was never happier than when contributing in some way to their pleasure. There was not a selfish quality in his nature, and he was ever ready to help the needy to the fullest extent of his own limited means.

Nevada and the World's Fair.

Genoa Courier: The question has been asked, "What is Nevada doing to do at the World's Fair?" Commissioner J. W. Haines, who departed for Chicago Wednesday, being interviewed on the subject, in suggestions from which the following is noted. Mr. Haines says that Nevada should erect a quartz mill at Chicago at a probable cost of $10,000. Senator Stewart states that the coming Legislature will unquestionably make an appropriation for this purpose. At the Centennial in Philadelphia, Nevada erected a quartz mill of which late Governor Stevenson was Superintendent. The assay value was paid for quartz to keep the mill running and by a special act of Congress the building was sent to the U. S. Mint and worked into centennial medals and sold at $2 each. By this means the little mill paid expenses. It was one of the chief attractions of the centennial.

Mr. Haines also refers to our mountains of sulphur and the huge blocks of transparent salt from which an attractive display could be made. He suggested that the Legislature pass an act permitting the mineral cabinet presented to the State by the Pioneer of the Pacific Coast in 1887, to be taken to Chicago.

NOTES FROM SEATTLE.

A Reno Lady Gives Her Impression of the Northern Boom Metropolis—A Stirring, Wide Awake Community.

Virginia Chronicle: A private letter from Mrs. R. H. Lindsay, who with her husband and family emigrated from Reno to make their home in Seattle nearly three months ago, gives some items of interest as follows:

"No one here seems to have much time for social life or for any other business than buying and selling 'lots.' There are more real estate places than all other businesses combined, and I don't believe there is a bank or store, ostensibly devoted to other matters, where you could not strike up a trade in real estate. Food of all kinds is comparatively poor and high-priced with the exception of meats and fuel is very nearly as costly as in Reno, although they are burning down timber by the hundreds of acres to get it out of the way. But nobody can get time to cut down the trees and make firewood of them they are in such a hurry to get the land staked off into 'lots.'"

Rents are much higher than in San Francisco, and much poorer accommodation given for the money.

The street cable service system is excellent, good sidewalks and electric lights everywhere, even far out in the suburbs. Water not very good, and sewerage in a state of chaos.

"Magnificent business blocks are going up, not to be surpassed by anything in San Francisco and the public school buildings are ahead of San Francisco, and the system of instruction in the kindergarten lines."

"The mail service here is a faithful and wonderful thing, but it is hopelessly out of the improve. I am not so enthusiastic over this place as some, but when we get fairly settled down into a full resumption of domestic life I guess I shall like it better and feel more at home."

Advice to Mothers.

Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. ## WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can SCROFULA Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula sore neck from the time she was 2 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARTER, Nauright, N. J.

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR AN INVESTMENT AND A HOME

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

INSURANCE.

MANHATTAN

Insurance Company.

Assets, $12,000,000.

The history of the past has proven beyond a question that an endowment policy in a life insurance company is a much

BETTER INVESTMENT

Than a savings bank; FIRST, because it is very much safer—as the law of the State of New York requires every life insurance company to keep a

Reserve in First-Class Securities

Equal to its liabilities, dollar for dollar; SECOND, in case of death while making these small deposits, the life insurance company will pay, just when most needed by the family, the

Full Amount

Of the sum insured, amounting to 10, 20, or even 30 times as much as has been deposited; or on the

Return Premium

Plan of the MANHATTAN, they would do even more than this, for they would at death pay the face of the policy and in addition all the deposits (premiums) paid, while the savings bank would only return the amounts actually deposited with interest.
Who would not purchase a valuable piece of property—a farm for example—worth $10,000, if he could have twenty years to pay for it, in small sums of $300 per annum with interest on deferred payments and without any tax on it? The $300 per year being only 3 per cent of the $10,000—a sum not much greater than that paid annually for taxes on property in hand, of the same cost, and especially if he could have the further conditions especially stated in the contract, that if he dies while making these payments—even after one only has been made—

No Further Payments Shall be Required

And the full title in fee simple to the entire farm shall at once be given to his family; and 2d, that if at any time after the three years during the twenty years he shall be unable to continue the payments and from sickness or any misfortune, that then he could discontinue any further payments and have in fee simple such portions of the farm as he has paid for; thus, if one-fourth of payments had been made, he would own one separate fourth of the farm, etc., and at the same time the farm be entirely free from all claims of creditors, under all circumstances, not even to be reached by writ of execution or attachment issued by any court, while if living to the end of the twenty years and the annual payments have been made, the

Entire Property in Fee Simple

Is secured.

Now the MANHATTAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY offers all this and more, for instead of offering LAND on these terms, which is often eaten up by legal expenses and fees in case of the death of the purchaser, or swallowed up by a mortgage given to secure deferred payments, thus losing the whole amount paid in and leaving the family destitute, or dependent, it offers a Specific Bond Secured by Millions of First-Class Securities.

Agreeing to pay MONEY on the same terms and conditions as above—the cost per year varying at different ages, but otherwise substantially the same terms as above stated, while the sum to be paid at the end of twenty years will be increased by dividends and compounded interest for the full term, thus making the investment a very PROFITABLE and ADVANTAGEOUS one.

Inquiries concerning the bonds this company will receive prompt reply if addressed to
